RATING ANALYSIS

What your star rating means

A 0.4★ advantage over the 4.6★ competitor average means Parramatta Dental Surgery is likely the highest-rated dentist in its local pack, which can directly increase click-through rates by an estimated 15–25% for new patient enquiries. Maintaining a 5.0★ rating requires careful review management, as a single low rating at 138 reviews has a greater impact than it would at 200 or more reviews.

REVIEW ANALYSIS

Review count vs competitors

Parramatta Dental Surgery is 62 reviews behind the competitor average of 200, which can reduce perceived trust and local search ranking signals despite the superior star rating. To close this gap within 60 days, the practice needs to generate approximately 31 new reviews per month, or roughly 8 per week.

PRIORITY ACTIONS

The 3 things to do first

- 1
- Implement a post-appointment SMS or email follow-up sequence sent within 2 hours of each visit, containing a direct Google review link, to systematically convert satisfied patients into reviewers at a target rate of 8 reviews per week.
- 2
- Respond to all 138 existing Google reviews within the next 7 days, addressing each reviewer by first name and referencing their experience, to signal active engagement to both Google's algorithm and prospective patients.
- 3
- Set up a weekly tracking log recording the total review count and average rating every Monday, establishing a baseline velocity metric to measure whether the 8-reviews-per-week target is being met or needs process adjustment.

EXPECTED OUTCOME

What to expect in 60 days

If 8 reviews per week are achieved consistently, the practice could reach approximately 200 to 204 reviews within 60 days, matching or surpassing the competitor average count while likely retaining the 5.0★ rating. This combination of top-tier rating and competitive review volume would position Parramatta Dental Surgery as the dominant trust signal in its local Google search results, realistically increasing new patient enquiry volume.
